Police Take Action on Pay-Night Disturbances

Seven "On the Carpet" And Are Fined Varying Sums Totalling
$90.15

On Saturday morning Magistrate Gresham had a line-up before him in the local police court of offenders charged with assault, fighting, intoxication, causing disturbance and drinking in a public place not authorized. Six persons were heard on separate charges, mostly arising out of pay-night the previous Saturday.

$10 and $4.80 costs were assessed against the assault cases; for fighting and causing disturbance two were fined $5.00 each and $4.00 and $2.65 costs; one offender pleaded not guilty to a charge of intoxication but was found guilty and fined $25 and $7.00 costs, and another young man who pleaded guilty to drinking in a public place was fined $20 and $6.70 costs. Two minor charges were withdrawn by the town police, who prosecuted in all cases. A total of $90.15 in fines and costs was collected.

TO BE STRONG AND TRUE

At least twenty years ago Greenville Kleiser said something well worth memorizing. Yes, verily he said a mouthful when he gave utterance to the following:

"To be strong and true; to be generous in praise and appreciation of others; to impute worthy motives even to enemies; to give without expectation of return; to practice humility, tolerance and self-restraint; to make the best use of time and opportunity; to keep the mind pure and the judgment charitable; to extend intelligent sympathy to those in distress; to cultivate quietness and non-resistance; to seek truth and righteousness; to work, love, pray and serve daily; to aspire greatly, labor cheerfully, and take God at His word—this is to travel heavenward!"
"By whose pronouncements you converted?" asked one man of another.
"By no one's. By my father's practicing," was the reply.

Smoke From Forest Fires

A high wind early Sunday morning fanned smoldering forest fires into action and a heavy smoke haze cast a dull pall over the Pass all day. A new fire outbreak was reported from The Gap, 28 miles north of Coleman, which is a favorite resort of fishermen from the Pass and other towns.

Carnival Opens On Saturday

Rink Management and Elks Combine in Raising Funds for Community Purposes

Committees have completed their work for the carnival opening, and invite the co-operation of the general public in making their efforts successful. The Elks make a worthy contribution to community welfare, while the benefits of the skating and curling rink are too well known to need re-telling.

Support from the public will help in raising a considerable sum and in addition there is the inducement of major prizes of a handsome Chesterfield suite, and a bedroom suite. Everyone is urged to help by attending the carnival on Saturday and Monday nights.

Gets Her Name in The Paper

The newspaperman on his rounds was asked by a young lady why her name wasn't in the paper. Searching his brain to recall if she had done anything startling or had got married or some other calamity had befallen her, without result, he asked her why her name should be in the paper. "Well, just look around, and see how nicely we have fixed up this place. Why, we have changed everything around, and it looks a lot better." To tell the truth, it did look spic and span, with deft feminine touches here and there. After telling this much, readers will be curious to know who the young lady was. To end the suspense, it was Nellie DeCecco, who, with Mary Misura, is employed in the Palm Confectionery. Now when Nellie reads this, she may be surprised, or she may not. However her wish is gratified, it is hoped.

Rangers Hold Show for Former Member

The first Coleman Company of the Rangers honored Mrs. R. Lowe, (nee Miss Maureen Cooke) at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. F. B. VanDuzee, on Wednesday evening. Games were played and contests were held. A very lovely lunch was served and Miss Isobel Atkinson and Mrs. VanDuzee poured tea. After lunch a decorated basket, laden with gifts, was carried by Joanna Flynn and Audrey Halliwell, who were dressed as bride and groom. The best wishes of the Rangers were bestowed on the first of their members to be married.

Coleman School District Ratepayers Meeting Friday

At a meeting of school trustees last Friday it was decided to call a meeting of ratepayers to be held tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. to place before them the reasons for proposing to erect a new additional school.

Before embarking on the project which will cost not less than $25,000, the trustees felt they should give ratepayers of the school district an opportunity to become fully conversant with the proposal and to give expression to their views.

For a considerable time the proposal has been discussed. Four classes are at present held in small separate buildings, and the proposal is to eliminate these "cottage schools" and in their place house them in a modern building on the block of land occupied by Central school.

All ratepayers are urged to attend, in order to give a representative expression of opinion to guide the trustees in their plans.

Stream-Lined Train To Stop Here

Supt. Ruthven Advises a 15
Minute Stop to Give People Opportunity to Pass Through Train
To the Coleman Journal;—

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 29th instant, in connection with the operation of the semi-streamlined train.

This train will leave Crow's Nest on September 19 at 12.00 p.m. mountain time and should reach Coleman station at approximately 1.40 p.m. It will remain at Coleman for 15 minutes, during which time it will be open to inspection of the public, and arrangements are being made that those desiring to do so, may pass through the train while it is standing at the station.

Yours truly,
W. H. Ruthven,
Superintendent.

"On The Carpet"

Often has the reporter wondered where that carpet came from which is laid on the council chamber floor when the judge comes. It gives an air of dignity above the commonplace. It was purchased 20 years ago, when Alex Morrison was mayor. He felt that some mark of respect was due the judiciary, moreover it gave a little more tone to the court, somewhat similar to laying a red carpet for important personages to walk on when they arrive at the city hall. So he ordered a carpet and a big-stuffed arm-chair, which for all their 20 years of spasmodic service look good for 20 more. Even though the carpet is used only on high occasions, the arm-chair does duty for the mayor at all meetings, and visitors may occasionally recline in its depths and take a snooze on a hot day.

More British Miners Outfitted for Safety

Protective equipment for miners is being increasingly used in Britain.

Mr. H. J. Humphreys, Divisional Inspector of Mines for the Yorkshire Division, reveals in his annual report that at the end of last year, some 30,000 British-made "hard-hats" had been supplied to Yorkshire collieries.

Many pairs of safety boots are now in use, the majority of which are being fitted with a padded tongue for instep protection, as well as the re-enforced hard toe, while some are also fitted with an outside steel toe-cap.

The use of gloves, shin guards, and goggles is also gradually extending.

Forest Fires Danger Over

Steady Rains Bring Relief from Tension of Past Six Weeks—
Crews Being Laid Off.

"We've had the best fire-fighter of all on the job," stated Ranger Boulton when asked by The Journal for the latest news of the fire front. Tuesday and Wednesday rains brought welcome relief from the strenuous days and nights of July and August, and crews were laid off, leaving only sufficient men to clean up the various camps, gather in the equipment and store it away for future emergencies.

It has been a very trying time. Fires raged in places difficult of access, besides which temperatures were abnormally high, and hot winds daily added to the difficulties. However, it is hoped the danger is over for this year. In places there is still smoldering debris, which only a covering of snow will extinguish, but with the soaking rains, a further spread is not expected. Lookouts will be maintained till all possible danger is past.

will be held under the auspices of the Crow's Nest Pass First Aid Meet.

To conclude the day, a dance will be held in the I.O.O.F. hall with Arcadians orchestra, and the First Aid committee will hold a smoker in Bellevue Inn.

News From Coleman's Vimy Pilgrim

Jack Wilson Tells of Incidents of Dedication and Visits to War
Graves.

Mr. J. Wilson, the only Vimy pilgrim from Coleman, better known as the weighman at International mine, in a letter to his wife, gives a few interesting sidelights on the big event. There was such a vast crowd there that he had to wait all night for a bus after the dedication to get back to his billet. Some of the men while in London had their pockets picked by light-fingered gentry, of whom there are always many in that big city. But apart from these mishaps, he stated they were treated royally in France and England, and he is enjoying himself spending the remainder of a three months holiday visiting friends and relatives in various parts of England.

He visited the grave of his wife's brother in France, and while standing admiring the flowers on it a thrush flew up and trilled its morning song. He noticed an elderly lady searching for her son's grave, and helped to locate it, but she became so grief-stricken that he felt it would have been better had she not visited it.

The graves are marked by nice headstones, replacing the "wooden crosses row on row" so vividly described in the immortal poem of McCrea's—"In Flanders Fields."

Mr. Wilson expects to return during September, having been granted three months leave from the International Coal Co. He served in France with a Canadian battalion, enlisting at Pincher Creek.

The Need For Flexible Loans

More elasticity is needed in mortgage loan agreements covering activity in Western Canada in future than has been provided for in the past.

In future agreements some cognizance should be taken of the possibility of the intervention of Providence in the affairs and operations of the mortgagor resulting in complete or partial inability to meet maturing annual payments of principal and interest due to no fault of his own.

Experiences of the past few years of general economic and agricultural depression have demonstrated that the terms under which loans have been made in the past have been based on the false premise that the farmer is in receipt of an assured and steady income, such as, at least in theory, is enjoyed by the salaried man.

Such agreements provide for the payment on a specified date each year of a portion of principal and one year's interest on the loan, without any provision for postponement of either principal or interest in the event of crop failure which may cause from any one of a number of causes over which the mortgagor has no control whatsoever.

The conditions under which agriculture has labored in Western Canada during the past five or six years, resulting in the piling up of mortgage indebtedness and now necessitating debt adjustment on a wide scale, have amply demonstrated the futility of agreements which make no provision for a measure of relief in periods of total or partial crop failure.

There is no doubt that much of the work and expense of debt adjustment now in progress could have been avoided had agreements, under which these debts have been incurred, even to the extent in some cases of wiping out the mortgagor's equity, been drafted when the original loans were made, to provide for automatic reduction in the amount of repayments in years in which, because of the operation of natural forces, the mortgagor had little or no income and for an increase in payments in years of bounty when much of the indebtedness would have been repaid.

Not only would endless negotiations with loan companies and the work of debt adjustment tribunals have been materially lessened, but the debtor would have been saved years of mental torture and harassing anxiety as he watched a juggernaut of accumulating interest threatening to crush him and pictured the arrival of the day when he and his would be dispossessed of all they ever owned.

A form of agreement that would eliminate this dread which must necessarily haunt the days and nights of the honest debtor who does his best to meet his obligations and is only defeated because of circumstances over which he has no control, would be a godsend to all who have occasion to secure loans in the future.

It should be possible to draw up an agreement that will provide for repayment of principal sums in accordance with the ability of the mortgagor to pay based on actual returns from honest effort and yet, at the same time, protect the lender from loss due to human incapacity or the machinations of dishonesty.

It is interesting to note that agreements incorporating the principle of paying more in times of plenty and less in times of dearth have been adopted and put into effect with apparent success in Australia, where in certain sections of the country the sheep ranchers are subjected to severe drought ravages to the extent at times of wiping out whole flocks. In that country the same principle has been made to apply also to short term credits supplied by the banks.

If such a policy can be worked out successfully in Australia there appears to be no reason why it should not operate equally well in Western Canada.

It is to be hoped that some arrangement for greater elasticity in future loan terms can be made by members of debt adjustment tribunals who are in frequent negotiation with the loan companies at the present time.

That the necessity for something of the kind exists was referred to recently in a municipal debt adjustment organization, when he said: "I find there has been a rigidity in our system of making loans to farmers that has not sufficiently taken into consideration the wide fluctuations in revenue to the farmer between years of plenty and years of scarcity. Provision should be made for greater flexibility."

The fact that at least some authorities have come to this conclusion strikes a hopeful note that something more commensurate with Western conditions will be arranged for in the future.

Liquid Air As Fuel

Newest Energy For Motors Being Tested in Japan

Liquid air serves as fuel for one of the strangest motors ever built, which now is operating in a Japanese laboratory. Should it fulfill the hopes of its inventor, it may bring about a revolution in motive power for vehicles of the land, sea and air. In contrast with the fiery temperatures of a conventional internal-combustion engine, which it somewhat resembles, the new motor operates at temperatures from 250 to 350 degrees below zero. Its small fuel tank holds ordinary air that has been chilled until it is transformed from a gas into a liquid like water. The difference in temperature between this extraordinary fuel and the surrounding atmosphere provides the energy to run the motor. From the fuel tank, the liquid air passes to a chamber where it is allowed to absorb heat from the exterior air. In doing so, it turns to vapor, much as water turns to steam when heated in a boiler. The pressure of the expanding air drives pistons in a pair of cylinders. Through an elaborate system of auxiliary apparatus, virtually all the energy contained in the liquid air is reported to be recovered. Because of its efficiency and small bulk of fuel required the inventor foresees eventual application of his motor in automobiles, trains, ships, and especially in airplanes. The small bulk of fuel required would also be an important advantage in aircraft. — Popular Science.

Long-Distance Phoning

Australia Claims To Have Most Cuts In The World

Due to the distance from other centres of civilization, Australia is confident it has more long-distance telephone calls than any other country in the world.

A report of postal authorities, who are in charge of long-distance telephone calls, shows a few facts of the past year to be as follows:

A call of 19,000 miles from Sydney to Valparaiso, via London and Buenos Aires, with perfect reception. Frequent calls from Sydney to London, San Francisco and to South Africa.

One call from Los Angeles to Sydney that occupied 53 minutes and constituted as far as time is concerned the longest long-distance call ever made into Australia. At regular rates it would have cost $900.

A conference call from London to Australia that embraced Johannesburg, Bombay, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and Perth, where everyone participating talked and heard each other as easily as though they were sitting around a conference table.

Since the radio-telephone service was inaugurated there have been 7,000 calls between Australia and the outside world as far afield as Chile, the Saar, Finland, Hungary and Palestine.

The latest hookup in the long-distance telephone network has been with Tasmania.

New Test Of Death

Will Avoid All Possibilities Of A Premature Burial

A new test of death, discovered by Drs. Salisbury and Melvin of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., is described in the British Medical Journal.

"The general application of this test would remove all traces of one of the haunting fears of mankind—the chance of premature burial," the journal declares.

The test involves appearance of the eye. All that is necessary is an ophthalmoscope, an instrument for inspecting the retina. If the columns of blood in the retinal vessels are broken the patient is beyond resuscitation. This phenomenon takes place after the circulation has been stopped for about ten minutes.

Cable-Cars Are Out

Japanese Do Not Want Mount Fuji's Beauty Marred

Majestic Mount Fuji has escaped another effort at modernization and climbers who want to get to the top will have to continue doing it on foot. A proposal for a cable-car route to the summit has been rejected.

The Japanese Home Office, opposing the project, declared that such a railroad would mar the beauty of the mountain and have an adverse effect on Japan's national health. The reasoning behind the second idea was that a railway would induce laziness and deprive many climbers of the healthful exercise necessitated by the climb.

One report was that a series of anonymous threats had been made to bomb a railway if one were built. The newspaper Jiji understood the reported threats influenced the Home Office decision to some extent.

Fuji, noted for its perfect formation, is 12,467 feet in height. Nearly 100,000 persons climb it annually.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not there, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up in the bowels. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks black.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get all the bile out. Your liver fills to get two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel strong and healthy. If you don't get this bile flowing freely, they do the work for you. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Get them at any drug store.

Home-Made False Teeth

Molars Made From Metal Crank Case Of A Motorcycle

False teeth made from an old motorcycle crank case are the crowning climax of a life of dental experimentation by Albert Orwin, road worker living in the village of Jump, near Wombwell, Eng.

First Orwin tried his ingenuity on the knuckle bone of a leg of mutton but the bone was not big enough. Then he tried using a billiard ball which, however, had the same defect, the diameter being only two and a half inches.

Success came when he melted down the aluminum from the crank case of the old motorcycle. The melted aluminum was run into an "impression" which he had taken himself.

Even so, this set is only for everyday use. On Sundays his smile reveals a "perfect" set made from the aluminum screw tops of old thermos flasks.

Centipede To Blame

Caused Breakdown At Electric Power Station In India

Peshawar, on the North-West Frontier, India, was thrown into complete darkness by a centipede. For three successive evenings the city lights failed. On each occasion a breakdown occurred at the electric power station, but experts could not detect the cause. All their investigations—even to a rapid inspection of underground cables—failed to explain the mystery. Then on the fourth night, a linesman found a centipede on the wires which carry the electric current to the city. A number of its legs were singed. This was taken as sufficient evidence of its previous expeditions.

Finds Thriving City

British Government Official Sees The Settlement While Flying

The lost city of Yong Peng, inhabited by 5,000 Chinese and situated in the midst of the Malayan jungle, was found by a British government official while flying over the district.

The official, who was employed in the Land Office of the native Malay state of Johore, saw a large settlement in the heart of the jungle, which he did not recognize. Next day he drove to it, and to his amazement discovered that it was the lost city of Yong Peng.

The government was unaware of the existence of the town, although it has been a thriving agricultural centre for nearly ten years. The inhabitants, who are Chinese, work as rubber planters on an area of more than 10,000 acres. They have built the town as their headquarters, and provided it with all the amenities of a native civilization.

SELECTED RECIPES

DATE SHORTBREAD

(Mixture 1)

- 1 package dates (stoned)
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup brown sugar

Method: Boil together until soft. When cool, add 1 teaspoon vinegar or lemon juice.

Mixture 2

- 1 cup shortening
- 2 cups Purify Rolled Oats
- 2 cups Purify Flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda

Method: Sift flour with salt and soda; add Purify Oats and cut in shortening.

Divide Mixture 2 into equal parts. Place half of it in oiled baking pan. Spread Mixture 1 over this, and then spread remainder of Mixture 2 over date layer in sandwich-like fashion. Bake in slow oven of 300 degrees for 40 minutes.

Horns Must Be Approved

Soft Tone Essential For Cars In Buenos Aires

The city of Buenos Aires, according to a report, will refuse to license automobiles unless the sound of their horns is approved as mellow and soothing. The regulation provided that "all motor vehicles should be provided with horns of a single soft tone, to be determined by the executive department. The use of 'kixxon' horns, loud-sounding sharp or double or treble-tone horns is strictly prohibited."

New Centre Of Civilization

Future Development Of World Opportunity Lies Along Pacific Coast

Opportunity for advancement in the world today lies in the Pacific area, Dr. Adamantios Pizyodes of the University of Southern California has been telling audiences lately.

"The European civilization is a dying one today," declares Dr. Pizyodes, "while the new world, vital, progressive and dynamic, lies along the Pacific."

The future development of world opportunity lies, he believes, with the reawakening of Japan, China and Russia.

"While the various political movements in the Far East," says Dr. Pizyodes, "may not be to our liking, yet because of those movements one-half of the world's population is awakening to the future. With this awakening, the opportunity for business and cultural development of American institutions will be unlimited."

"Competition from European sources will be only negligible because the European nations are too interested in their petty international backyard fights to see what they are missing in the way of truly world development."

Government Scientist Trying To Find Traces Of Early Civilization

A new attempt to find traces of a forgotten Eskimo civilization in the Eastern Arctic will be made by a Canadian government scientist who has sailed for the Arctic aboard the Hudson Bay's sturdy supply ship, Nascopie.

Discovery of bone and ivory implements bearing no resemblance to those used by present-day Eskimos has led scientists to believe that the Eastern Arctic once was inhabited by a strange race, now extinct.

United States Warship Bombed by Airplane Near Spanish Coast

Washington.—Secretary of State Hull made strong representations to the Spanish government and the rebel General Francisco Franco after a plane had dropped six bombs near the United States destroyer Kane off the Spanish coast. The vessel returned the fire without effect.

The Kane, en route from Gibraltar to Bilbao, was attacked about 40 miles off the Spanish coast. Nine rounds from the destroyer's anti-aircraft guns were fired at the bomber.

The plane, a tri-motored long-winged monoplane without identifying markings, made three attacks on the destroyer, the state department said. Although the Kane was flying the American flag, and had an American ensign spread on top of a deck awning, the bomber dropped two projectiles during its first attack.

Fifteen minutes later it returned and released a third bomb, and the destroyer fired two rounds from its anti-aircraft gun.

Almost immediately the plane soared over the vessel a third time, dropping three bombs, all of which went wide.

The state department made it plain it did not regard the incident as a deliberate attack on an American war vessel.

"Since both the government forces and the opposing forces in Spain in the friendliest spirit have made every possible effort to avoid injury to American nationals and American property," the department's statement said, "it can only be assumed that the attack on the United States destroyer Kane was due to its identity having been mistaken by a plane of one faction for a vessel of the other."

Disposing Of Cattle

Forty Head From King's Ranch Are To Be Sold

Peikisto, Alta.—Forty head of the 160 registered Scotch shorthorn cattle on King Edward's ranch near here will be disposed of by auction October 26, Prof. W. L. Canby, E. V. ranch manager, said.

The sale will be held on T. A. Russell's Bonnie Brae farm, Downsview, Ont., outside Toronto, he said. The sale will enable eastern Canadian breeders to improve their herds.

A shortage of feed on the royal ranch, as on other holdings in drought-stricken southern Alberta, was a factor in deciding to dispose of the cattle.

Canadian Children Drowned

Shanghai.—A private telegram from Chengtu told of the drowning of two Canadian children during the recent disturbances in that region. Details of the tragedy were not given in the telegram.

Trade Talks Between British And Canadian Ministers Invaluable

Toronto.—Recent trade talks between British and Canadian cabinet ministers "proved invaluable in creating an understanding of each other's position which must be the preliminary to sound mutually advantageous agreements," Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, Dominion secretary in the British cabinet, declared in an address by trans-Atlantic telephone as he opened the British trade section at the Canadian National exhibition.

To a distinguished gathering in the governments' building in the exhibition grounds, the son of Ramsay MacDonald spoke of inter-imperial trade after he illuminated the building by depressing a cable key in the British general post office, London, on the eve of the exhibition opening. Development of mutual trade between the United Kingdom and Canada "is a matter of importance to both as a contribution towards securing employment and maintaining a good standard of life for the people in each land," Mr. MacDonald said.

"Inter-imperial trade should be two-way traffic," he continued, "it was with this object before us that after the Ottawa conference we

Rains Relieve Drought

But Much More Needed To Bring Back Pastures

Ottawa.—Recent rains have partially relieved drought conditions in southwestern Ontario, southern Manitoba, southwestern Saskatchewan and adjoining areas in Alberta, stated a crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Harvesting, nearing completion, has been generally interrupted by showery weather over the prairie wheat fields. Wheat deliveries were still increasing and would soon reach the peak. Quality was generally good with the protein content extremely high. Yields varied from very poor in the worst drought areas to good in the northern districts, where moisture supplies were adequate for growth. Rust, while widespread, had caused little damage on account of the early ripening.

The report continues: Coarse grains are yielding poorly over the greater part of the prairies and pastures are badly depleted, requiring much more rain to bring them back. Supplies of rough forage are adequate in Manitoba but in the drought areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan, farmers are stacking Russian thistle for winter feed. Some light damage was caused to late crops in the Calgary and Lethbridge areas by a storm.

Celebrated Birthday

Lord Tweedsmuir Opens Canadian Pacific Exhibition In Vancouver

Vancouver.—Lord Tweedsmuir and Vancouver celebrated their birthday together.

Sixty-one years ago the governor-general was born at Perth, Scotland, and on August 26 he opened the Canada Pacific exhibition, climax event of the golden jubilee.

The linking of Canada by a transcontinental railway 50 years ago, His Excellency termed a miracle of which familiarity had dulled our perception.

"In the destiny of Canada," he continued, "Vancouver must play a vital part—I had almost said a dominant part—for she is the window out of which Canada looks toward the east. She is the gateway to the Pacific. She is the chief winter grain port of the world. It is not for me to forecast the future, but it is very clear that the east and the Pacific must play a major part in international affairs."

Quebec's New Cabinet

Quebec.—The new Quebec cabinet announced by Premier Maurice Duplessis has five lawyers in its ranks, including the Union Nationale Premier himself. The 14 members of the cabinet include two merchants, a manufacturer, an engineer, a river pilot, a farmer, an insurance agent, and a butcher.

New Premier's First Move

Duplessis Cuts Own Pay And That Of Cabinet Ministers

Quebec.—One of the first moves of Quebec's new premier, Hon. Maurice Duplessis, after taking office, was to cut his own salary and those of his cabinet ministers. He also announced plans to reduce seasonal indemnities of members of the legislative assembly.

The premier slashed through an order-in-council cutting his salary from $14,000 annually to $12,000. His cabinet ministers each received a cut from $8,000 to $7,000.

The proposed indemnity reduction is 10 per cent. of the $2,800 paid to a member for each session of the house lasting more than 130 days.

It was estimated the reductions would save the treasury about $120,000 annually.

Pensions for blind people of Quebec between the age of 40 and 70 years will be one of the first bills introduced by Hon. Gilbert Layton, newly appointed minister without portfolio, he announced.

Funds Have Been Restored

Members Of Church Of England Thanked For Co-operation

Winnipeg.—Lost endowments of the Church of England diocese of Rupert's Land, originally estimated at $758,641, have been restored in full to the revised sum of $772,070. It was announced here following sessions of church representatives held to discuss details of the restoration campaign.

In a resolution moved by His Grace Archbishop Harding of Rupert's Land, the gathering expressed deep gratitude to the members of the Church of England in Canada who, by their work, gifts and interest, had contributed their individual shares to restoring the fund.

The resolution was seconded by J. M. McWhinney, treasurer of the fund. Value of securities which remained in possession of the church is still to be adjusted and the question will be placed before the meeting of the executive of the general synod to be held next month in Toronto.

Food Supply Not Affected

Survey Shows United States Supply Up To Average

Washington.—The department of agriculture economists said the drought would have little effect upon the United States food supplies from now until the end of next June. A special survey on "the food situation" by the bureau of agricultural economics said "the supply of food available for domestic consumption will be almost as large as last year."

Taking into account prospective yields and available supplies from the previous season, the report said the total food supply for the period ending June, 1937, would be three per cent. below that of last season and one per cent. under supplies following the 1934 drought.

Pope Pius XI

Vatican City.—Prelates disclosed that Pope Pius XI has become so weakened from worry over the Spanish situation that he scarcely is able to rise from his throne at the close of audiences. He will soon receive Spanish bishops and priests who have found refuge in Italy and, in addressing them, protest to the entire world against the sacrifices of the civil war.

MENTIONED FOR POST

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, prominent member of the Canadian Government, who is mentioned as the likely successor to Mr. Philippe Roy as Canadian Minister to France.

Britain Declines To Act

Will Not Take League Mandate Of Western Ethiopia

London.—Great Britain has declined to act on the request of native chiefs that she intervene for a League mandate for western Ethiopia.

Sixty Galla chiefs, in revolt against Italian rule, appealed to the British government to intervene and to accept a League mandate for western Ethiopia. The territory, said to be a large number of miles, includes one of the most fertile tracts in East Africa. It borders the Sudan.

Britain declined to act on the petition, taking the ground that to accept a League mandate would be contrary to her declared attitude in the Ethiopian dispute, namely that she was not seeking material advantages.

Under Tourist Exemption

Largest Amount Of Goods Brought In From United States

Ottawa.—Canadians brought into Canada from the United States goods valued at $793,141 under the $100 tourist exemption during May, June and July, the national revenue department disclosed.

In May, out of a total of $118,893 brought in under the exemption rule, $107,172 came from the United States. In the following month the amount more than tripled, $316,484 worth of goods coming in from the United States out of a total of $349,896.

In July there was a slight drop, with $238,229 entering from the United States and $41,256 from other countries, a total of $389,485.

Many Children Enrolled

18,000 Are Now Attending Indian Schools In Canada

Ottawa.—Indian schools in Canada have enrolled 18,000 children. It was announced by Hon. T. A. Crerar, superintendent general of Indian affairs. Of this number 8,900 are in residential schools.

Two of the most recently erected buildings of the residential school system are those at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Lebrét, Sask. These, like other schools under the department of Indian affairs, are operated in co-operation with the various church authorities engaged in Indian work.

Bracken Government To Continue In Office Despite Majority Loss

Would Affect Canada

Australian Group Asks That Trade Treaty Be Denounced

Ottawa.—The proposal to denounce the Ottawa trade agreement between the United Kingdom and Australia, if carried into effect, would indirectly affect Canada because this country enjoys the British preferential rates on some of the goods it exports to Australia. A cable from Adelaide stated the associated chamber of manufacturers there asked that the treaty be denounced.

The trade treaty in force between Canada and Australia was negotiated in 1931 and was in effect when the Ottawa agreements were signed the year following. It was not changed by the imperial economic conference held here. It was originally for three years and has since been extended.

The largest exports of Canada to Australia, such as canned salmon, newspaper and lumber have definite rates in the Canadian treaty and would not be affected if the U.K.-Australia treaty were killed. Neither would automobile chassis rates but in a large number of miscellaneous items Canada is given the British preference whatever it may be and if these were changed Canada would be affected. They include machinery, textiles and other manufactured goods.

Barred From United States

Communist Member Of British Parliament Not Allowed To Enter

Washington.—The United States government has refused to permit William Gallacher, a Communist member of the British parliament, to enter this country. The American Civil Liberties Union has made public a protest over the refusal of the department to grant a temporary visa to Gallacher, now travelling in Canada.

The action was taken, it was explained, under the American immigration act prohibiting entry of persons who are members of groups that have as their object the overthrow of organized governments by force and violence.

For Greater Defence

France And Belgium Make Plans To Increase Armies

Paris.—France is mapping intensive plans for strengthening her military defences, convinced Nazi Germany is headed toward war. Brussels despatches say Belgium will follow Germany in prolonging the term of obligatory military service. It was predicted following a meeting of a commission named to study defence statutes.

French statisticians estimated 5,500,000 men in Europe, a third of them Germans, would be "ready for war" when Germany's new two-year term of military service becomes effective.

Government Accepts Minimum Wheat Price Approved By Board

Ottawa.—The Dominion government accepted the recommendation of the Canadian wheat board, making the minimum price of wheat 87½ cents per bushel, basis head of the lakes, for No. 1 Northern. The minimum price, guaranteed by the government, will only come into effect should the market price fall below 90 cents. The new minimum price is the same as that in operation last year.

Announcement was made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King following a session of cabinet council. The effect of the decision, which was reached at a meeting of the cabinet, will be that the wheat board will not buy any of this year's crop unless the price falls below 90 cents, when it will step in and support the market by buying from the farmers all wheat offered at 87½ cents. In the meantime farmers wishing to sell will do so on the open market.

With this year's crop of wheat now pouring on the market, this is a time of heavy hedging and it is understood the board will hold off selling from its carryover until the hedging-pressure has been removed.

The amount of old wheat held in Canada at the end of the crop year (July 31) was 108,750,000 bushels, part of which is still held by the wheat board but a considerable portion of it is held by private interests.

In his announcement the prime minister said the recommendation was approved only to the extent that it becomes automatically effective whenever the closing market price of No. 1 Northern wheat at Fort William drops below 90 cents. A drop below 90 cents during the day's trading would not affect the situation if the market improved to a point above that level at closing.

This announcement follows a close upon a visit to Ottawa by James R. Murray, chairman of the wheat board, who was called into consultation by the cabinet. It was felt by the government that to take any other action at the present time might seem to prejudice the findings of the commission headed by Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, which is now investigating the whole aspect of wheat marketing from every angle.

Winnipeg—The Liberal-Progressive government of Premier John Bracken will carry on despite losing its clear majority in the Manitoba legislature in the July elections. It was announced at the close of a party caucus.

Cabinet reorganization will be effected as soon as possible and the legislature will be called into session early in the new year, said Robert Hawkins, M.L.A.-elect for Dauphin, who presided at the caucus.

Premier Bracken will leave shortly for Ottawa to discuss with the Dominion government matters relating to unemployment relief and aid for farmers in the drought area of the southwestern section of the province.

While Mr. Hawkins' announcement said there was no purpose to be served in further considering coalition with the Conservative members, there was no reference to promises of co-operation from the five Social Credit members which previously was promised Premier Bracken.

Liberal-Progressives in the legislature were reduced from 36 to 23 in the election with Conservatives electing 16, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation six, Social Credit five, Independents four and Communist one. There are 45 seats in the legislature.

Referring to coalition reports, the announcement by Mr. Hawkins said:

"The matter of the suggested coalition with the Conservative party was brought up but owing to the fact that since the offer submitted by Premier Bracken was approved by the Liberal-Progressive members had been summarily disposed of by the leader of the Conservative party, it was thought there was no purpose in considering it further."

Exports From Churchill

Four Vessels Have Already Sailed With Grain Cargoes

Churchill, Man.—Exports of wheat have passed the 1,000,000-bushel mark at this northern Manitoba seaport. Four trans-Atlantic ships have already sailed with grain cargoes and close to 20 are expected to go outward bound before the season ends early in October. The record year for the port was 1934 with 15 sailings.

Since the S.S. Firby sailed August 9 to open the 1936 shipping season, 1,277,000 bushels of grain have been exported and inbound cargoes have included mining equipment, glass and general merchandise for prairie points. The other ships which have already sailed were the Wentworth, Salmon Pelt and Jean L.D.

New Air Service

Edmonton.—Opening up an almost virgin mining country and a rich fur trading and big game territory, a complete air mail service for north-eastern British Columbia has been authorized by the postal authorities in Ottawa. Major W. R. Hale, superintendent of the Edmonton postal district, has announced. Inaugural flight probably will be made in December.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

RECENTLY Judge A. M. McDonald in district court here reviewed applications for naturalization, of which there has been more than an average number in the province since a Santa Claus has been making extravagant promises. He told applicants that should they become citizens they should not expect the Canadian government to do for them the things they should do for themselves. Too many, he stated, were prone to think the country should take care of them if they became involved in difficulties.

GOVERNMENT paternalism has developed in the minds of some the idea that the world owes them a living. Another fallacy more recently inculcated in people's minds who are all too anxious to unload their burdens on others is that all interest on borrowed money should be abolished. Sanctity of contracts has been ignored, and a wrong concept of what constitutes integrity and honor has been developed by unbalanced reasoning against which it is almost useless to argue. Invariably you are subjected to abuse and sarcasm if you maintain the ideals on which nations have attained greatness, and have established reputations for fair dealing which has enabled international trade and commerce to be carried on.

WHAT the result will be as far as Alberta is concerned only time will tell. People have been led to believe the "rapture" is at hand. They have signed agreements, under the name "covenants," to do certain things, which many who signed have all too lightly regarded. Government employees have signed them because they know their jobs are not safe if they do not. The purpose of the "covenants" is to make the provincial government the master of the people, so that they may be compelled to finance a policy which they do not understand and which is designed by men who rush blindly in where angels fear to tread. Those who do not think the proposal through to a conclusion believe they will receive a dividend in Alberta Credit. Little thought is given to what it is or what it is worth. The value of Alberta Credit will be determined not by the government of Alberta, but by those outside of the province with whom we trade.

IN THE past the credit of Alberta has been established through the character of the people themselves, not by any government. It is being so judged to-day, and not very highly, because many have yielded to a hypnotic spell whereby they hope to see the government give them a dividend in Alberta Credit. In other words, they expect the government to do something which they should be doing themselves—establish their own individual credit. As Judge McDonald stated, many believe the government should do the things they should themselves be doing.

Fortunately our judiciary is removed from political influence, therefore judges can speak impartially and without bias and give to the people a calm reasoned judgment, which cannot be ignored.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Morris, accompanied by Mr. John Burrell motored to Picture Butte, over the week-end, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Young.

Miss Megan Jones of the public school staff spent her summer holidays in Wales and England, making the trip both ways on the "Duchess of York." One of the places visited was Scarborough, famous seaside resort on the east coast of Yorkshire.

The football club secretary, James Park, acknowledges a donation of $75 from the Coleman Miners Association. In addition a number of subscriptions were received from people in town, and the club expects to receive a few more before the season closes.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Thompson and three daughters returned on Tuesday afternoon from Vancouver, and for the present will live in Mrs. Wm. Graham's house. Mrs. Graham had intended going to Vancouver, taking her children with her, but a breakdown in health compelled her to go into hospital for a few weeks.

Crystal Dairies of Blairmore have taken over the milk business of Joseph Filafilo, who for 13 or 14 years has carried on under the name of Coleman Dairy. Mr. Oliver, proprietor of Crystal Dairies, recently returned from a visit to Nova Scotia, where his parents live.

Miss Ruth Morrison is planning on leaving for England in the near future, where she will visit with Dr. and Mrs. Borden and family in London, and will also visit other parts of the United Kingdom. She will likely return in December, at which time it is expected the Borden will return after a years absence from Coleman.

There is no substitute for paid circulation—and The Journal has it.

A fountain pen is valued by school students. McBurney's drug store has the latest and best types at $1.25 to $2.75. Text books specially ordered and sold only for cash.

The Western Sales Book Co. counter sales books are sold through The Journal office at factory prices, sales tax and freight charges included. Merchants can order their supplies at any time for future delivery by telephoning 209.

To make a local sale or selling campaign a success, it is of vital importance that your local weekly newspaper be used. Readers gain the information of local stores through The Journal, and its advertising messages carry force and conviction in every line. It is read in the quiet of the home when people have leisure time to carefully study the ads.

Local News

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. James Kilgannon spent the week-end at Waterton.

Miss Lena Godfrey will teach again this year at Beaman school, about 60 miles northeast of Calgary.

Mrs. A. Dow, accompanied by Mrs. George Jenkins and Miss Mary Jenkins, visited relatives at Hardieville on Sunday.

Jim Wilson's name is added to the very few who caught a worth-while fish this season. It was midway between the Forks, near Cowley, and weighed 2 lbs. 13 oz. It was a rainbow trout.

Five-year-old Harry Parkinson had a birthday party on Friday, when a number of his juvenile friends had a jolly time, helped out by Harry senior, who showed them how to play baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lindoe left Sunday on a two weeks vacation. They visited Mrs. Lindoe's parents, Dr. and Mrs. McCallum, at New Dayton and from there intended to motor into the States and travel as far west as Spokane.

R. A. Darke, who has been relieving in the Bank of Commerce during the holiday season, left on Monday for Peterboro, Ont., where he will be on the staff of the bank there. He stated he enjoyed his stay in Coleman, having made a number of friends here.

Local net stars played a return engagement with the Lethbridge city tennis club on Sunday at the Lethbridge courts. Coleman players proved themselves too strong for Lethbridge and won out eleven matches to nil. Local players taking part were Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lindoe, Miss Mae Bell, R. Shone, Geo. Jenkins and W. Balloch. Miss Muriel Naylor accompanied the players.

E. W. Beart returned last week from nine weeks stay in Calgary, where he was taking treatment for an injured knee, which was badly wrenched while at work at the International mine. While in the city he kept company with McKen Hunter, an old-timer of Coleman, who has been receiving treatment for quite a long time for a mine injury. McKen sent his regards to his many friends here and the members of the Masonic Lodge, of which he is a charter member and a past master. Jack Poxtton is taking treatment in Calgary for an injured foot. Alex Kotch, one of the "old brigade" who went overseas, is also on the sick list in Calgary.

Christian Science

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Man." The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let him have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:26, 27). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 94): "Man reflects infinite 'Truth, Life, and Love. The nature of man, thus understood, includes all that is implied by the terms 'image' and 'likeness' as used in Scripture."

Mr. and Mrs. T. Brown, of Spring Point, spent the week-end in town. Mr. Brown is a foothills rancher of over 30 years and recently suffered an injury to his leg when a horse stumbled and rolled on him, necessitating his coming in for medical attention. He is postmaster in his district, and brings in the mail to Pincher every week, no matter what the weather may be. He has never missed a trip. His daughter living here is Mrs. T. Holstead, wife of Tom Holstead of The Journal staff, on which he has faithfully worked for fifteen years. Walter Bobbitt is still feeling the effects of his injury received several weeks ago when playing in the donkey baseball game. He has been down town several times lately.

Weddings

Burrell-Gray Wedding

Mr. Matthew Burrell, youngest son of Mrs. John Burrell of Coleman, was married to Miss Mary Gray, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gray of Blairmore, on Saturday, August 29. Mr. William Gray, brother of the bride supported the groom, while Miss Margaret Kyle of Hillcrest, was bridesmaid. Rev. A.E. Larke of Blairmore officiated at the service. The young couple have taken up residence in Coleman where Mr. Burrell is employed.

Leonard-Hadfield Wedding

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Rose Hadfield and Mr. Hector Leonard were married in Drumheller recently. The groom was supported by the bride's two brothers, Samuel and De Lestre Hadfield. Mrs. J. B. Clifton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Ralphie Hadfield was bridesmaid. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The happy couple will reside at Delbourne, Alberta.

At the United church manse, Sept. 1, Norman E. Shipley of Blairmore and Lillian Gibson Smith of Calgary. The couple were unattended.

Also David Robertson and Melva Andrews, both of Lethbridge. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Donaldson. Rev. H. J. Bevan read the service, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 29.

United Church

The morning services have been marked by good attendance. The Sunday school resumed its sessions last Sunday with an attendance of 57. Parents are asked to encourage the attendance of their own families. Older children and young people are especially asked to attend.

The Junior choir is again taking part in the morning service and all members are asked to remember the choir practice on Saturday at one o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers will not be held for September.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duffield, jr. was baptised during the morning service on Sunday last. He was given the names Philip George.

A cordial invitation is given to all interested to attend the services. Morning at 11 and in the evening at 7 o'clock. School at 12.15 p.m.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA CRAIG

"Yes, you do sound as if you might be the very girl I'm looking for. . . . And then he went on amazingly: 'I've been hunting this town over, turning everything upside down, wishing that Fate would send me a girl such as you seem to be. A lovely girl who has been places and seen things, who could take her place anywhere, and probably has, even if she wouldn't want it known. A girl without family ties or other encumbrances, you understand?' His smile twinkled at her a little crookedly. 'Beginning to get a little of the why of the cross examination? And—a girl with sufficient disregard for the conventions to allow herself to be molded into the type I want her to represent. A restless, heartless, fast-living playgirl!' Again the twisted smile. 'I was beginning to believe such a girl could exist only in fiction, but—'

Starr caught her breath sharply, looking at him as though searching for the Mephistophelian physical attributes his words intimated might be expected to be discovered. What madness was this? For a fleeting moment Starr feared that the curse of Tut-Ameh-Ra, mercifully forgotten for a few pitiful moments, was attacking her mind instead of her body. This couldn't be real.

Probably she was still back in the Museum; still under the spell of a painted priestess. She was uncertain whether this little episode of the café of painted women and licentious-looking men—and the man whose very appearance represented to her all she had lost, all she might never hope to grasp—was a fantastic creation of her own imagination.

"Hassan," she had deliberately called him in her own mind, stubbornly putting away the idea that of all the people in the world she had ever seen he least resembled anything or anybody Egyptian or Arab. In that peculiar mood where she had determined to embrace, instead of cringe, from the things Egyptian which had lured her father to his death, she had decided on this, her own Arabian Night's tale. It couldn't be anything else. . . .

Idly she wondered what his name might really be. That didn't matter, either, in this tumultuously foolish dream.

He stole a glance at "Hassan's" strong profile, felt the warm pressure of his hand sending tingles of fire through her cold blood. Oh, no, he was real enough! No Arabian Night's Hassan. Probably someone called Reggie by his friends, or so the other hand, Bill.

He went on rapidly, as though making the most casual conversation: "I'll provide you with an apartment, of course, the kind of setting you should have. As a matter of fact," he paused a moment, studying her. "Gad! What an ideal! With those eyes, that coloring—all this talk we've been having about Egypt—you're not Egyptian, of course, but what an ideal! You could be it."

"He stared at her, as if he didn't see her at all, but as if she were some puppet of his imagination he was trying to set into its own little jig-saw puzzle place. 'You could forget you'd ever been—'

Starr didn't know why, but she found herself nodding, taking part in the game whatever it was, as she said dreamily:

"Forget—forget—" It was a half-hypnotic, mechanical reply. How much she wanted to forget! "The Arabs have a saying: 'In the desert one forgets everything, one remembers nothing any more.' . . . I was in the desert—once. . . ."

The man stared at her a moment, half hypnotized himself.

"What an actress!" he murmured, then the half contemptuous grin came back and he went on in the same cold-blooded business tones:

"I'll furnish the setting, yes. I'll introduce you to the right people. I'll make you shine like a diamond. If you fall in with me you won't have a thing in the world to do but play to your heart's content."

So that was it! He was! He was! She knew. "If you fall in with me—" The same old proposition any girl in the world would have recognized, even as unsophisticated as Starr Ellison whose eyes, it appeared, were wide-world—and were not. Even she could recognize that old thing for what it was. The same old thing merely dressed up in new words!

Starr had thought that there was no room in her tired heart for more emotion. But another worm of bitterness ate its creeping along, lingering, making itself at home.

Yet in spite of it she found herself considering the offer. This was not the same thing she had been up against at the employment agency. It was quite another matter. No jaded old boss who wanted to employ you in the guise of secretary, who wanted you to "be nice to him." This man—he represented so much of all she had looked upon from afar. He was her own kind. He represented glamour.

Her hitherto well catalogued thoughts on one subject whirled in a vortex, spun to a centre. Other girls—Girls did sell themselves for less than six months of life. Every day. They thought nothing of it. Why not she, who had so little to lose, so much to gain? This stranger, this New York Arabian Night's "Hassan" who had materialized merely at a tumultuous wish, was offering her everything she wanted so desperately—except true love, of course. And that she dared not accept from any man, even though it should be offered.

Her voice was brittle as her head lifted with the importance of one of those ancient princesses she remembered.

"And the price?"

"Hassan" sounded suddenly shocked. As quickly he moved a bit away from her.

"Oh, you mustn't misunderstand me," he glanced quickly at her, then away, but in one quick glance, decided not to make the bald statement he had intended. He put it in a mild way. "I—I assure you I'll not attempt to inflict myself upon you in any—er—unpleasant way. It's a business proposition—merely. You will be on a salary. You see, it will work out like this: All the time you are playing, as you say you want to play, you will actually be working for me."

"Let's talk it off," said Starr softly.

"Have it your own way," said the man, carelessly. "I salute you, too, and you can take it or leave it."

Starr wanted to study him, did not dare. But catching a slanting glimpse of his eyes, she was instantly ashamed of her suspicions. Whatever this man was, this "Hassan" of Broadway, he wasn't that kind!

He wasn't the kind who picked up girls on the street or accosted them in a café merely because they were alone. He didn't have to. He had that indefinable charm which is irresistible to the opposite sex. Hadn't she felt it herself when they were dancing—all that time before when Starr made a mental guess that her "Hassan" had kept many a debutante sitting by her telephone, drumming her polished finger nails, waiting for his call.

He was waving away the water who hovered obsequiously near. His eyes were on Starr. There seemed to be a flash of doubt in them, for all he had said.

"I've got a lot more to say to you," he said. "There's plenty to be explained. How about us getting out of here—my place isn't far away—we can have a bit of supper there, and—and—well, there plenty to talk about. . . ." He was rising. "Let's go."

Starr did not answer, for there was no answer. She was conscious of the soft click of clinking glasses in the place, the muted clamor of traffic outside, the unreality of everything as she picked up her purse, shivering a little, feeling much in a daze as she felt him take her arm and guide her toward the door as though she had no will of her own.

She made only one remark when he settled her in the taxi. She said:

"I'm afraid I won't be a very good companion tonight. I had a grouch when you drifted by. I—I feel just like breaking things."

"Don't let me interfere with any of your childish pleasures," he said, and laughed, cheerfully. "Anything your little heart desires. Even get a lot of ex-Christmas presents at home you can try your hand on. And the pleasure will be all mine."

CHAPTER V.

Starr did not see the calculating glance Phouma gave her in the darkness of the taxi. If there had been any lingering doubts in his mind, this simple acquiescence to going with him wherever he led finished that. His conscience was clear. And why not, he argued to himself, seeing where he had at last caught up with her? She might have her own racket, but at least she was new enough at it for it not to stick out too plainly, and he could mold her to his own wishes.

They got out before the low doorway of an old-fashioned house, one of those obviously made into bachelor apartments of the smarter class. He led her through the doorway lighted by the two pierced iron lanterns that beckoned a welcome. The ivory and the plum comfort of the entrance enveloped them and the small automatic elevator let them out before a door painted ivory and with a brass knocker. He didn't use it; rapped with his knuckles.

A Japanese serving man opened the door and they went through a hallway, all dark woodwork and tinted walls to a big living room where a fire burned on the hearth where once had been a grate.

"This is well enough for a bachelor," he said, with a touch of disdain. "I hope an Egyptian princess can make herself at home."

Sure Of A Welcome

United States Has Warm Affection For King Edward

Every good American will echo heartily the words of President Roosevelt in Quebec—"We look forward to the day when, finding it possible to come again to the Dominion, he (King Edward) may also visit with his neighbors in the United States." What an uproarious greeting he would receive! The visit would be another event in our history since a lame thing and would do more than a hundred polo matches, cup races and naval and economic conferences to promote a better mutual understanding. There is an abiding admiration here for English institutions and a warm affection for the King—and Americans would welcome an opportunity to display them. Inasmuch as the young King has not hesitated to depart from precedents and to make some of his own, an acceptance of the President's indirect invitation would not be surprising.

It is nothing new for a President to leave his native land. President Wilson went to Europe twice. President Harding went to Vancouver, and President Coolidge to Cuba. But no King of England has ever set foot in the United States—Boston Herald.

Was Famous Singer

Sir Henry Lytton For Half A Century In Operatic Work

Sir Henry Lytton, last of the old Savoyards, died at his home in London after a long illness.

He was 69 years old and had spent more than a half century singing a wide variety of roles in Gilbert and Sullivan operettas.

His appearances with the D'Oyly Carte company, of which he was a member during most of his career, brought him fame as one of the finest light opera singers ever to play the Savoy operetta.

He appeared in the productions more than 15,000 times and 5,000 performances of "The Mikado" alone.

Cannot Be Calculated

Amount Of Happiness You Can Produce By Smiling

Be cheerful. Which will you do—smile, and make others happy, or be crabbed, and make everyone around you miserable? The amount of happiness you can produce is incalculable if you show a smiling face and pleasant countenance. There is no joy like that which springs from a kind act or pleasant deed, and you may feel it at night when you rest, and at morning when you rise, and through all the day when about your business.

Britain Going Ahead

In spite of the reduction in parcel post rates, Britain's postal services had a profit of $11,250,000 in the last year. Telephone service, operated by the British post office, had a record income. It is another sign of the way Britain is going ahead.

The people who drive the fastest usually have the least to do after they get wherever they're going—if they get there.

The British postoffice handles more than six billion letters and parcels annually.

Wants To Write Book

Young Railway Porter Hopes To Return To West Indies

To Emerson S. Mahon, portering is but a means to an end. The colored observation-car attendant on the Canadian Pacific Railway's train that runs from Winnipeg to Edmonton, had some time, day to return to his native West Indies and there to write a book.

Mahon would like to tell the world of the ancient customs and practices of the West Indians, particularly of the life of Grenada, where he was born and from where he came to Canada 24 years ago. He intends, some day, to dig deep into the centuries—old lore of the people in that group of islands in the Caribbean Sea.

But before doing that the smiling porter wants to progress further in his study of the Hebrew religion. Mahon is an ordained Rabbi. He holds three degrees in the ancient Jewish faith. His ambitions are to attend a Hebrew seminary in Great Britain to obtain the highest degree in his religion, that of Rav, or chief rabbi.

Mahon's home is in Winnipeg. Four nights a week he is "on the road," the other three being spent in the Manitoba capital, where he preaches his faith. He explained there are seven degrees of rabbis. He is authorized to practice three of them and must continue his seminary studies to obtain the remaining four.

The young porter explained that Hebrew is not at all an uncommon religion among negroes. The faith, he said, had its beginning in the West Indies in 1492. In that year, he related, Jews were expelled from Spain, many emigrating to the western hemisphere.

The negro slaves as a general rule conformed to the religion of their masters. His grandmother, who married an Irishman who fled to the West Indies from his native life, was born a year before slaves were freed. Her religion was Hebrew, as was that of her "master." That has been the religion of his family ever since.

British Empire In Ships

Artist Spends Ten Years Painting Story On Plywood

A little woman with an idea 100 yards long and 75 feet high has arrived in London to see if she can sell it.

She is Clara Fargo Thomas, noted American artist, and the idea, which she has been ten years perfecting, is a pictorial story, painted on plywood, of the British empire in ships—starting with the Regent, built in the fifteenth century, and finishing with the Queen Mary.

"Since childhood ships have fascinated me," Mrs. Thomas declared. "I have haunted museums and searched records to get all details accurate."

Her professional career started when, owing her dressmaker money, she offered to paint her furniture. By the time she had finished the dressmaker owed her money.

While in London, Mrs. Thomas is using the studio of Sir John Lavery, famous painter.

Pencils From Japan

Laid Down At Less Than Cost Of Raw Materials

Imports of pencils into Canada from Japan in May of this year were about equal to estimated domestic production for the same month, and were almost as great as total imports from Japan for the whole year 1935, says Bookkeeper and Stationer, Toronto. The average price of these imports was placed at approximately 24 cents per gross, compared with a valuation of 192 imports of 68 cents per gross and 61 cents per gross in 1934. The laid-down cost declared on Japanese pencils in Canadian ports of entry is said in many instances to be actually lower than the cost of the raw materials that went into them.

Hard On Teachers

The bureau of education has ruled that school teachers in Greater Shanghai could not use rouge, lipstick, face powder or permanent wave. It is another sign of the school with educational principles. Similar prohibitions previously applied to girl students.

Gold Production

Production of gold from Saskatchewan and Manitoba sources in June was recorded at 16,076 ounces while the total for the first six months of 1936 was 87,841 ounces as compared to 78,507 ounces in the same period of last year.

Little Helps For This Week

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger. Proverbs 15:1.

Renew Thine Image, Lord in me; Lovingly and gently may I be; No pride in my unruffled mind; But faith and heaven-born peace be there.

Neither say or do ought displeasing to thy neighbor; and if thou hast been wanting in charity, seek his forgiveness or speak to him with gentleness. Injuries hurt not more in the receiving than in the remembrance. A small injury shall go as it comes, a great injury may dine or sup with you. Why should you vex yourself because another has vexed you? Grief for things past that cannot be remedied, and care for things to come that cannot be prevented, may easily hurt and can never benefit you. Therefore commit yourself to God in both, and enjoy the present.

Man Without A Country

Former Russian Leader May Be Forced To Leave Norway

Indications are that Leon Trotsky, former Russian revolutionary leader, might soon be ordered to his usual status of a man without a country.

The wandering, sickly Bolshevik is to be expelled from Norway. Government sources said, if charges of new international intrigue are proved against him. At the same time Pravda, Moscow Communist organ, made clear that there would never be hope for reconciliation between Trotsky and Stalin.

Banished from his own revolutionary land and excluded from many others, Trotsky accepted refuge in Norway with the promise to refrain from propaganda or other international activity. Recently young Norwegian Nazis broke into Trotsky's home in Oslo. He was found papers which they said dealt with plots in France and Spain. They handed them over to police.

Trotsky entered Norway June 13, 1935.

Scientific Work In North

Arctic Patrol Has Not Been Hindered By Adverse Weather

In an interview at Churchill Major McKeand, in charge of the Canadian government eastern Arctic patrol on the R.M.S. Nasopie, stated that the administrative and scientific programme of the patrol had not been delayed or hindered by weather or other conditions since entering Hudson's Straits.

Mr. Ney and his assistant, Mr. Courtright, had transferred to the R.S. Fort Garry at Port Burwell for the purpose of establishing astronomical stations in the Ungava bay area. Messrs. Leechman and Nichols were left at Wolstenholme to continue their investigations on the mainland of Quebec and the nearby islands.

These scientists will be taken on board the Nasopie and continue their work as far north as Craig harbor, returning to Ottawa with the other members of the patrol.

It is questionable whether the sawfly is as much a menace to Canadian forests as the sawmill.

A Much-Abused Word

"Thoroughbred" Is One That Is Seldom Correctly Used

A word much abused in its everyday use is "thoroughbred." A provincial government bulletin received a few days ago referred to "thoroughbred cattle." Trotting horses coming to an Ottawa track were designated by the same name, while it is not unusual to hear a person refer to a dog or cat as a thoroughbred. Actually the word intended in all such cases was "pure bred." A thoroughbred is a special breed of horse, is a proper name and should therefore be capitalized. Thoroughbreds are as distinct a breed as Hackneys, Standard Breds, Shetlands, among horses; or Jerseys, Holsteins or Ayrshires among cattle. When an animal is registered as to purity of breed it can be referred to as a "pure bred" and that is the term which is intended when "thoroughbred" is often thoughtlessly used.—Ottawa Journal.
